

Celilo Vineyard is a meticulously managed site rising high above the Columbia Gorge a few miles NW of Hood River, OR. It is arguably one of the greatest white grape sites in Washington with its cool climate, wonderfully mineral rich soil and high winds that move the 50" of annual rainfall off the canopy.

This is pure Spring and Summer in a glass.

AROMATICS

Bosc and Bartlett pear, ginger, apricots and minerals.

PALATE

Slightly more dry than the 2006 version, there is a wonderful focus and freshness to this wine.
